JENNI HO-HUAN

shed those leaves

emerge to live free, true, and strong

HOW DO WE LIVE - free in a world clamouring for recognition, results and accolades? True in a world operating by competition and strife? Strong in a world labouring under the weight of hazy beliefs?

The journey to freedom, truth and strength begins as we shed the leaves of self-reliance and mass appeal that we don, where we foolishly risk true encounter with Jesus, and as a result, with ourselves. Shed Those Leaves is a Christ-follower and pastor's honest search for Jesus' way of freedom, truth and strength. It is a memoir-manifesto that calls readers to look deep within themselves in order to emerge, and live out the promise of Jesus' gift of salvation.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

JENNI HO-HUAN came to Christ, was nurtured and ordained in the Presbyterian Church. She was trained in Trinity Theological College, where she completed her Masters of Divinity and Master of Theology (Pastoral Theology) with a study focus on "personhood". God has opened her vistas to diverse church traditions; including marrying Rev Dr. Philip Huan, who grew up in the Methodist Church. They are blessed with two children. Jenni's passion is to live with authenticity and help others discover God's living reality. She blogs at www.jennihh.blogspot.sg and is author of When God Shapes a w.i.f.e. and Simple Tips for Happy Kids. She serves the wider Body of Christ with Philip through Churchlife! Resources (www.churchliferesources.org), working with church leadership to ignite passion, equip people and align purpose.
